

Zeta Alpha Chi

Newsletter

1999-2000

"...in da house. Roo Roo! Roo Roo!"

2000 Pledge Class Reaches Record Numbers

The 2000 Zeta Alpha Chi pledge class is setting new records for the fraternity by doubling in size over the 2 previous years' pledge classes.

June 16th and 17th, ZAX will hold its 2nd Annual 29th Annual No Se Weekend during which they will initiate twice as many members as the 2 previous years. "The fraternity is growing by leaps and bounds," co-president Zac Logsdon says, "We are so excited by this year's large pledge class."

"At this pace, we'll have enough members to start our own 8 man football team before too much longer," said co-president Zac Stevens.

The 2000 pledge class will consist of the following people:

- Aaron Butler
- Michael Channel

Zeta Alpha Chi, begun in 1997 by Zac Stevens and Zac Logsdon was created as a safe haven for people named Zac...and their friends. Since that time, they have doubled their membership and this year, will triple it.

"Though the fraternity began at the University of Oklahoma, we currently have a member from Oral Roberts University. This year's class will allow us to spread to Oklahoma State and UCO/Rose State," Zac Logsdon said.

Contrary to popular belief,

An example of the fun that is had at No Se...Zac and Zac try a little dessert swapping.

members are not required to be named "Zac." Nor are they required to pay dues, or show up to weekly meetings.

The only requirement to join is attendance at No Se Weekend and purchasing a ZAX hat.

"I think one reason we attract so many members is due to the ease of joining. Our only stipulation is that you show interest in ZAX. If you do that...you're in." Zac Stevens said.

When asked what usually transpires at No Se Weekend, long time member Brett Farley replied, "No Se!"

Brett Farley (left) and John Conrad (right) show us how much fun No Se Weekend can be.

ZAX Pledges Father

Aaron Butler, a year 2000 pledge, will be the first member in the history of Zeta Alpha Chi that is a father.

Ryan Butler, Aaron's son just celebrated his 1 year birthday and appears to be very proud of his father's choice to join ZAX.

"Ahhhh! Wubboo huh daa," Ryan said.

On a similar note, Aaron will also be the first member of ZAX whose name is "Aaron."

Young Ryan expresses his enthusiasm that his daddy will be joining ZAX.

Zeta Alpha Chi Calendar Of Events

June 16th
2nd Annual 29th Annual No Se Weekend
"Guys Night Out--Initiation of New Members"

June 17th
2nd Annual 29th Annual No Se Weekend
"Date Party--Bring Your Wife, Fiance or Significant Other"

Zeta Alpha Chi

Member Update

Co-founder and co-president Zac Stevens recently graduated from the University of Oklahoma with his degree in Journalism. He aspires to be a radio talk show host either on a morning show or on a sports talk station. Zac is responsible for coming up with the idea to start a fraternity called Zeta Alpha Chi as an acronym for the name "Zac." Zac can also take credit for helping establish many of the age old traditions ZAX has today. For instance, the Annual No Se Weekend....and many more. Zac served for 3 years as the University of Oklahoma basketball mascot, Top Dawg, during which time, he cheered the team in 2 Big 12 tournaments as well as 2 NCAA tournaments. In one instance as Top Dawg, Zac was punished for his unbelievable spirit. It seems that during the OU vs. Texas Game, Zac spent his own time and money making a cutout of a Longhorn that he hung upside down on his backside during the game. In the midst of the game he was accosted by University of Oklahoma Athletic Director Joe Castiglione and told to remove the Longhorn. Castiglione doesn't understand the hatred we have for UT.

Co-founder and co-president Zac Logsdon graduated from the University of Oklahoma in December of 1999 and is now working as the Archives Director at Ackerman McQueen, an advertising agency in Oklahoma City. Zac, like Zac, was at the forefront of Zeta Alpha Chi and shed much blood, sweat and tears to get ZAX to the point it is today. As well as being a co-president, Zac is an integral part of the ZAX board of recruiting, planning committee, homecoming committee, social committee and also serves as the events coordinator and graphic artist for the fraternity. Zac is married and now resides in Oklahoma City. He plans to stay exactly where he is for a very long time....unless of course he gets a great offer to move to some far off city where the opportunities are endless. For those of you who know of Zac's love for music, he is no longer singing with his band Quarter but he and Zac Stevens are working on an album inspired by Pink Floyd's The Wall. The album will deal entirely with a pet monkey named Mortimer and the trials and tribulations that occur with him. The album will be in Spanish.

Brett Farley set many firsts with Zeta Alpha Chi. He made up the entire first pledge class in 1998, he was the first member of ZAX that was married, he was the first ZAX alumnus, the first and only to go on to graduate school, the first member to be named something other than Zac and the first member with dark brown hair. Brett is now working on his master's degree at Regent University in Virginia where he serves as Student Body President. After graduation, he plans on getting his Ph.D. from a Catholic university in Washington, D.C. where he will be forced to get drunk on a nightly basis. Other accomplishments in Brett's life include working on the presidential campaign for Alan Keyes, and passing out while urinating and falling into his bathtub. Brett hopes to someday be a United States Congressman where he will lobby heavily to get the government to recognize Zeta Alpha Chi as the official fraternity of the United States of America. Brett asks that if any member of ZAX is questioned by someone from the IRS, to please not reveal where Brett can be found.

John Conrad, or "The Birdman" or "Birdy" or "Bird" or "Johnny Bird" or "Juan Carlos" or "John," who pledged ZAX in 1999, also has a significant Zeta Alpha Chi claim to fame. John was the first member of ZAX to take our fraternity to a school other than the University of Oklahoma. That's right, John took ZAX to new heights by spreading us to Oral Roberts University where he spent a lot of time working with the campus radio station. John has now graduated from ORU with some sort of multimedia degree and resides in Colorado Springs where he works for a Christian organization called Altarnet. John hosts a music video television show that plays videos which are requested via the Internet. You can visit the website at altarnet.net and see crazy, funky pictures of John in a space suit. John can also be seen visiting friends in Tulsa quite often. However, don't expect to see him visiting any friends in Oklahoma City. John has many talents, though his most outstanding is his ability to impersonate tall, thin people with dark hair.